There was a good armful of weadings ! during the past week which were, in point of fashionable importance, more or less worthy of note. One of the prettiest, which was characterized by quiet taste and absence of display, was that of Miss Adelaide Paulson and Mr. James Aiken Grier, Tuesday evening, at the North Presbyterian Church, Allegheny.

A quiet ceremony on Wednesday united the lives of Miss Martha Austin, daughter of the late John Graham, of Washington, Pa., and Mr. George R. Acheson, son of Judge Acheson, of Shadyside. Rev. James I. Brownson, D. D., officiated. After a trip East the couple will live in a handsome new house close to the residence of the groom's father on Amberson avenue.

A welcome addition to society in this city will be the bride of Mr. John J. Lawrence, whose marriage was celebrated Wednesday evening in Cincinnati. The bride, who is a sister of Mrs. Durbin Horne, was Miss Clara Louise Andrews, daughter of Mrs. A. W. Andrews. Rev. Wiliam Turner, of Baltimore, brother-inlaw of the groom, assisted by Rev. Frank Woods, rector of St. Paul's Church, Cincinnati, performed the ceremony. The bride is said to be a charming girl and comes from an old Cincinnati family. She is very popular in the most exclusive social set of that city. After a trip East, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence will live in a pretty house at Shadyside, the gift of the groom's father, Mr. John J. Lawrence, one of Pittsburg's well-known citizens.

The social event of the week at Roches ter was the marriage of Miss Laura Shallenberger to the Rev. Earl Fenton Palmer, pastor of the Baptist Church at New Castle.

Among the weddings of the coming week will be those of Miss Marion Giddings and Dr. J. W. Robeson, at Calvary Church, and that of Miss Laura Henrietta Hoene to Mr. Edward Hartje, in Trinity Lutheran Church, Allegheny.

What a robust scrap book the girl of the period must have if she saves all the pretty things that are said about her in newspapers, say from the time of her coming out ball until about a year or so after her marriage! However much she may rave about being "kept so constantly before the eyes of the public," there is not the slightest doubt but that she cuts out every line that is written about her in "those horrid news-papers" and arranges them carefully in a book, and that the same book finds an honored place among her dearest treasures.

First of all, there are innumerable surmises among her friends as to when she will "come out." They have to be published, and when she does come out a full account of her appearance, disposition, accomplishents, etc., has to be given. Then, of course, she is dined, teacd, luncheoned, theatered, carried abroad, perhaps, and back again, all of which receives due notice, and accordingly the account of the street of the st accordingly the ecissors are brought to bear upon the case. But not until she becomes engaged can she be said to make any great eadway in her scrap

To cut a long story shor, if she is a pop-ular girl, by the time she has collected all that is said about her from the announce ment of her engagement until she is home from her welding trip and has received all over again the dinners, teas; etc., it will be seen that the fair maiden's book will have grown to a good healthy size.

It is not very startling news to say that times have changed since our grandmothers' days, but in those times a young woman's social career was given about four lines of "paid matter" in a newspaper. That was the notice of her marriage, and then her husband's name took up part of the space.

Mrs. Wilson McCandless has rented her residence on Stockton avenue, Alleghenv, and has taken up winter quarters at the Monongahela House.

There will be more than a social interest centered in the Riviera tea at the residence of Mrs. Joseph Dilworth next Thursday afternoon. That beautiful charity, the Children's Hospital, is to be benefited by the entertainment, and where is the woman who dees not feel her heart stirred to the core by the thought of being able to do something for the little sufferers who are taken care of in the bright, cheerful home on the green hill on Forbes street? The Board of Managers have issued a limited number of invitations, because it would be impossible to receive all who would like to take part in the entertainment at Mrs. Dilworth's mausion, commodious as it is. There is no doubt that every invitation will be used. Besides the pleasure of drinking a cup of ten in congenial society, there will be that of listening to a paper on "The Riviera," to be read by Mrs. Strong Vin-

The Misses Kirk, of Darrah street, Oakland, leave this week for New York City, where they will remain during the winter.

A wedding that will doubtless be one of the largest and most pretentious of the season is to come off after the Lenten time in New York. It will be that of Miss Mand Lorillard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Lorillard, and Mr. T. Suffern Tailer, whose engagement was announced at Tuxedo last Wednesday. The couple are among the fortunate few who possess youth, beauty, wealth and are inclosed in the select circle of New York's four hundred.

The latest engagement announced is that of Miss Arthurs, only daughter of Mrs. Biddle Arthurs, and Dr. B. M. Hanna.

The Art Society is to be congratulated on having taken up the matter of thanking Mr. Carnegie once more for his munificent gift of a public library to the city of Pitts-burg. It is not to be supposed that Mr. Carnegic needed any assurance that Pitts-burg was grateful to him for his interest in her artistic welfare, but the action of the Art Society in passing resolutions to that effect last week was a graceful act, notwith-

Mrs. William H. Findley, of Greenville, Pa., is the guest of Mrs. Samuel D. Hubley, of North Avenue, Allegheny.

A dainty wedding last week was that of Miss Linnie McKee and Mr. Reynolds Miss Linnie McKee and Mr. Reynolds Munroe, of Allegheny, at the residence of the bride's mother, Negley avenue, East-End, Tuesday evening. The pastor of Beliefield Presbyterian Church, Rev. Henry McClelland, D. D., officiated. At the con-clusion of their bridal tour, Mr. and Mrs. Munroe will be at home in that pretty subarb. Wilkinshurg. suburb, Wilkinsburg.

TEACHERS PULLING WIRES.

Politics Injected Into an Election of Officer for the Teachers' Institute Yesterday-A Lady Gets the Largest Vote-Gossip Going

The contest between Superintendent of Schools, George J. Luckey and Prof. S. A. Andrews, Principal of the Howard Schools, 16th ward, for the Superintendency of the Pittsburg schools, commented on some time ago in THE DISPATOS, was given additional spice yesterday by the contest for the elec-tion of Vice Presidents of the Teachers' Institute. Mr. Andrews' friends had slated him for vice president, His opponents were Prof. J. M. Logan, and Miss Jennie Ralston. Mr. Andrews has been Vice President for eight years. In some way the idea became prevalent that the contest over the vice presidency would be a factor in the contest for the city superintendency of schools next spring. The vote resulted as follows: Miss Ralston, 413;

J. M. Logan, 397; and Prof. S. A. Andrews,

The officers of the Teachers' Institute elected are appended: Vice Presidents, Miss Jennie Ralston and Prof. J. M. Logan; Recording Secretury, Mary E. Graham; Executive Committee, Prof. H. W. Fisher, Prof. J. K. Bane, Miss M. E. Hare and Jennie C. Simpsoh; Permanent Certificate Committee, Nannie Mackreil, Prof. C. B. Wood, Elia McCutcheon, Prof. R. M. Cargo, and Miss M. A. Coleman. As so much interest is centered in the result of the election the number of votes each nominee of the ticket received will be read with interest. Miss Raiston, 413 votes; J. M. Logan, 337; S. A. Andrews, 147; M. E. Graham, 510; H. W. Fisher, 408; J. K. Bane, 417; A. C. McLean, 187; M. E. Hare, 285; H. A. Prondfit, 231; J. C. Simpson, 390; Nannie Mackrell, 350; Annie Bamford, 417; C. B. Workman, of Ada, Ohio, had for his subject "Christopher Columbus." He dwelt on what we owe to the memory of Columbus, not as a navigator, not as a discoverer, not as the founder of a new civilization, but to the man for catching the spirit of the age, which was looking toward a circumnavigation of the globe and the founding of a new empire. Hon E. T. Nelson, of Delaware, O., followed, and displayed his masterly study for the past two years on "The Trends of the Continents." He compared the trend of the Western Continent to those of Europe and Asia. He clearly filustrated that the Caspian Sea is becoming more and more a body of fresh water. A WORD TO THE WISE.

CERTAIN ADVERTISEMENTS FROM TRADE RIVALS, Van Flouten's Cocoa

Dr. SYDNEY RINGER, Professor of Medicine at University College, London, Anthor of the Standard "Handbook of Therapeutics."

This eminent physician ACTUALLY writes as follows:—
"From the careful analyses of Professor ATTIELD and others, I am satisfied that Messrs. Van Houven's Cocoa is in no way injurious to health, and that it is decidedly more nutritious than other Cocoas.—It is certainly "Pure" and highly digestible.

The quotations in certain advertisements from my book on Therapeutics are quite misleading and cannot possibly apply to Van Houven's Cocoa.

The fairs reflection on Van Houven's Cocoa is thus effectually repelled and the very authority cited to injure it, has thereby been prompted to give it a very handsome testimordal.

As it is to be contested for exclusively by members of the Fourteenth Regiment, the probabilities are that another day will be named for the contest.

THIRTY-FIVE qualifications must be put up by each company this year, or give excel lent reasons for not doing so. It is not claimed this year that companies will be mustered out for not getting the requisite number of marksmen, but a detailed statement of the causes for not so doing must accompany the report.

THE local militia made a very pretty display during the big parade last Friday, and while the ranks were a trifle thin, the men looked exceedingly neat and clean and marched well. It was the first time the people have had a chance to see the new factics exemplified since their adoption. Colonels Smith and Perchinent should compel a larger attendance of their staffs on such occasions.

THE numerous calls for the Netional Guards in various States during the past six months to suppress violence has raised the troops wonder ully in the estimation of the officials of the regular army. General Schofield, in his recent report, strongly recommends the Government to furnish the militin with the latest pattern of small arms and breech-loading rifled field guns. He also recommends the organization of troops in those States and Territories not now having militia organizations.

COLONIO OSTRAIN the General Inspector of COLCNEL OSTHAUS, the General Inspector of Rifle Practice, has issued an order closing the season of target practice for this year on October 31. Colonel Osthaus proposes that no delay shall be experienced in his departno delay shall be experienced in his department by the turdiness of regiments in forwarding their reports, and as a consequence the lists of qualified must reach his office by November 5, or the scores inding to do so will be thrown out. General inspectors must report not later than November 3. The number of marksmen in the State this year will probably run considerably ahead of last year, while the number of surryshooters will be considerably less owing to the fact that the nucessary score has been raised to 45.

Wedding Presents.

It is a perplexing question to many persons on the marriage of their friends as to what they shall give them. And the question is not easily answered by remaining at home thinking about it. The right way to do is to go where a variety of goods is kept suitable for wedding gifts. To such an establishment a visit was paid yesterday, and while the variety of goods displayed is almoss endless, yet the beauty, utility and appropriateness of so many articles makes the question of choosing comparatively easy. We will enumerate a lew things: First was seen a fine display of banqueriamps. One that we particularly admired was a figure of Cupid in satin silver holding a howl of fliagree work in gold. The base othe figure was also in gold and the whole surmounted with a beautiful silk shade. Others very pretty in design were of onyx and gold, onyx and silver, etc. In this department there is also a large assortment of plano and vase lamps in almost every conceivable shape and style.

Every bride nowadays is supposed to have a china cabinet. What, then, could be more coivable shape and style.

Every bride nowadays is supposed to have a china cabinet. What, then, could be more appropriate than a nice dinner set. Here we saw a great variety in Haviland, Ponyat, Guerin, Vienna, and we don't know what other makes, all beautiful in shapes and decorations; also fish sets, game sets, neat sets, ice sets. There was just opened a large shipment, direct from Limoges, consisting of exquisite fruit plates, salads, comports, pudding sets, olive trays, celery trays, etc., all in the intest decorations.

In brica-brac you have an immense array to choose from, consisting of Royal Worcester, Doniton, Old Hall, Bonn, etc., and as these goods are all direct from the factories, you will see the latest modelings and decorations. Then for the buffet or dining table, what bride does not appreciate rich ent giass fruit bowis, punch bowls, carafes, pitchers, decanters, celery trays, olive dishes, oil bottles, toilet bottles.

Flower vases and bowls go to make up this very interesting exhibit.

A long line of beautiful decorated chamber sets is also quite a feature of the stock. We have enumerated but a few of the articles you have to choose from, but call at Cavitt, Pollock & Co.'s, No. 935 Penn avenue, and see if we are not correct in saying that they have something to sait every taste and purse. Their elegant show rooms are only a few doors from Ninth street.
